How it works

After carefully doffing the soiled suit, simply throw it in the washing bag. The zipper will automatically open up in the washing process. This helps limit contact with harmful particles on the outer layer. The bag has a velcro patch for optional identification of content or personalization.

2-in-1 bag including large durable handles with snaps and optional removable patches for personalization.

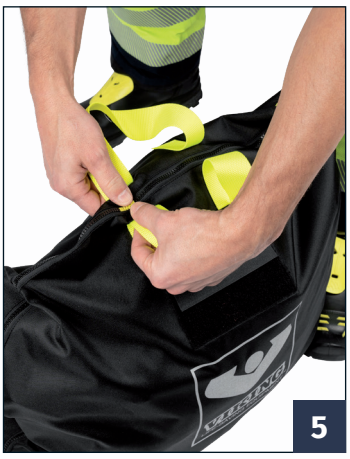

Inside pocket for masks and disposable gloves.

Room for your fire suit, gloves and hood.

For safe washing, after doffing the suit, place it in the bag. Zip the bag and snap the handles shut. It's ready to carry.

Before washing unsnap the handles. Press down on the small yellow area of the zipper and open slightly.

The bag and suit is now ready to be placed in the washing machine.
